10 tips for a healthier holiday

The holidays are often filled with time-honored traditions that include some of our favorite meals and foods. As you celebrate, think of little changes you can make this holiday season to create healthier meals and active days.

1. create MyPlate makeovers

2. enjoy all the food groups at your celebration
   Prepare whole-grain crackers with hummus as an appetizer; add unsalted nuts and black beans to a green-leaf salad; use low-fat milk instead of heavy cream in your casseroles. Share healthier options during your holiday meal.

3. make sure your protein is lean
   Turkey; roast beef; fresh ham; beans; and some types of fish, such as cod or flounder, are lean protein choices. When serving meats, trim away any fat before cooking. Go easy on the sauces and gravies—they can be high in saturated fat and sodium.

4. cheers to good health
   Quench your thirst with low-calorie options. Drink water with lemon or lime slices. Offer seltzer water with a splash of 100% fruit juice.

5. bake healthier
   Use recipes with unsweetened applesauce or mashed ripe bananas instead of butter. Try cutting the amount of sugar listed in recipes in half. Use spices to add flavor such as cinnamon, allspice, or nutmeg instead of salt.

6. tweak the sweet
   For dessert, try baked apples with cinnamon and a sprinkle of sugar instead of apple pie. Invite your guests to make their own parfait with colorful sliced fruit and low-fat yogurt.

7. be the life of the party
   Laugh, mingle, dance, and play games. Focus on fun and enjoy the company of others.

8. make exercise a part of the fun
   Make being active part of your holiday tradition. Have fun walking and talking with family and friends after a holiday meal. Give gifts that encourage others to practice healthy habits such as workout DVDs, running shoes, and reusable water bottles.

9. enjoy leftovers
   Create delicious new meals with your leftovers. Add turkey to soups or salads. Use extra veggies in omelets, sandwiches, or stews. The possibilities are endless!

10. give to others
    Spend time providing foods or preparing meals for those who may need a little help. Give food to a local food bank or volunteer to serve meals at a shelter during the holiday season.

10 consejos para feriados saludables

Los días feriados son oportunidades para dedicar tiempo a celebrar tradiciones que incluyen nuestras comidas y platos favoritos. Mientras celebra piense en pequeños cambios que pueda hacer esos días feriados para crear comidas saludables y mantenerse activo.

1. crea MiPlato renovado

2. en sus celebraciones disfrute los alimentos de cada uno de los grupos
Para empezar sirva galletas integrales con “hummus,” adicione nueces sin sal y frijoles negros a una ensalada de verduras; en sus guisos o cazuelas use leche baja en grasa en vez de crema. Comparta opciones saludables en sus comidas de días festivos.

3. asegúrese que la proteína que consume sea magra
Pavo, carne de res, jamón, legumbres y algunas variedades de pescado como bacalao o lenguado son opciones magras. Cuando prepare carnes, corte y retire la grasa antes de cocinar. Sea moderado con las salsas y los aliños, éstos pueden contener cantidades considerables de grasa y sodio.

4. celebre la buena salud
Sacie su sed con opciones bajas en calorías. Tome agua con jugo o rodajas de limón. Ofrezca agua con gas mezclada con un poquito de jugo 100% fruta.

5. hornee productos saludables
Use recetas con puré de manzana sin azúcar o puré de plátanos en vez de mantequilla. Trate de disminuir la cantidad de azúcar en la mitad de lo que indica la receta. Use especias para adicionar savor como canela, clavo de olor o nuez moscada.

6. cambie los dulces
Para el postre, prueba manzanas horneadas con canela y azúcar roceada en vez de pie de manzana. Ofrezca a sus invitados la oportunidad de preparar su propio “parfait” con tajadas de frutas multicolores y yogur bajo en grasa.

7. sea el centro de la fiesta
Ría, baile y juegue. Enfóquese en la diversión y goce de la compañía de otros.

8. haga que el ejercicio sea parte de la diversión
Haga que el ejercicio sea parte de la tradición de un día festivo. Diviértase caminando y hablando con la familia y los amigos después de la cena. Dé regalos que motiven a otros a practicar hábitos saludables como DVDs de ejercicios, zapatos y botellas reusables de agua.

9. aproveche de las sobras
Prepare platos con las sobras del día anterior. Añada carne de pavo a sus sopas o ensaladas. Use vegetales en sus tortillas francesas, sándwich o sopa. ¡Las posibilidades son interminables!

10. regale
Dédite tiempo a preparar comidas o proveer alimentos a aquellos que necesiten ayuda. Dona alimentos al banco local de alimentos o participe como voluntario durante la temporada de fiestas para servir comidas en los comedores comunales.

Family meals are important. You create close bonds and lifelong memories around the family table. Family meals can teach your child about healthful eating. You just need to be a good role model. When you try new foods your child may be more adventurous with food, too.

Try these easy ways to make family meals a pleasant part of your family routine.

- Set a regular family mealtime. Regular mealtimes give your child a better chance to eat a variety of foods to get the right amount to grow, stay healthy, and keep a healthy weight.

- Make it simple, make it quick! Spend less time in the kitchen and more time at the family table. Simple meals, even cold sandwiches, taste as good as meals that take more work. You can make any meal special if you all feel relaxed and if mealtime is filled with caring and laughter. Simplify – to take care of you, too!

- Show that family meals are important. During mealtime, turn off the TV. Find another way to see favorite shows. Let the answering machine take your phone calls, too. Have your family make calls before or after the meal hour. Show that same respect for other families when you make phone calls.

- Eat around a table. It’s easier to talk and listen to your family when you face each other. Eating side-by-side at the kitchen counter takes away eye contact.

- Enjoy meal talk. Make easy conversations – no nagging or complaining. Talk so everyone can be a “star” at mealtime. Don’t take over. Your child will listen and learn by feeling included.

- Be realistic about mealtime. Try to sit down together. Keep meals from lasting too long. If kids get fussy, your family meal won’t be fun. Wait until everyone is done to be excused.
“I Can Help!”

Helping with family meals makes your child feel important in your family. You get time together, too. Your child learns even when tasks are not perfectly done. So even if you work faster alone, ask your child to help you.

- Pick flowers for the table.
- Create paper placemats.
- Put pets in another room, if they demand family attention at mealtime.
- Clear and wash the table. Wash his or her hands.
- Help with table setting.
- Help with simple kitchen tasks, perhaps tearing salad greens or putting bread in a basket.
- Pour milk, perhaps with your help.
- Turn off the TV. Turn on fun music.

- Clear and clean the table.
- Ask “What would you like to do to help me?” Jot their ideas down.

Try this:

Does it seem impossible to fit family meals into your hectic schedule? Go step by step. Try to enjoy at least one family meal together each week. See what works, and plan from there.

Recipe of the Month: Tasty Tots

Tasty Tots

BELLENGHAM MEMORIAL MIDDLE SCHOOL
Bellingham, Massachusetts

Our Story

The recipe challenge team at Bellingham Memorial Middle School began by brainstorming healthy menu items that would be well accepted by students. The team learned how to execute the contest’s recipe development during an afterschool cooking class led by chefs from a Whole Foods Market. After a discussion on the value of healthy food and basic nutrition, the team divided into four groups and developed eight recipes.

The recipes were taste-tested by over 200 students and resulted in rave reviews. Two of these recipes, Tasty Tots and Mediterranean Quinoa Salad, became winning recipes featured in this cookbook.

Tasty Tots are a combination of sweet potatoes, garbanzo beans (chickpeas), and cinnamon that come together to form a unique, delicious dish. This variation of a classic side dish is a yummy addition to any menu.

Serving

6 tots provides: ½ cup red/orange vegetable and ¼ cup other vegetable.†

†The legumes in this recipe contribute to the other vegetable subgroup and not the meat/meat alternate component since the beans are not visibly recognizable as legumes in the Tasty Tots recipe. This vegetable side dish with legumes is limited to the vegetable component because of its function as a vegetable in the meal.

FACT: Improving the nutrient content of the foods children eat by disguising nutrient-rich vegetables and fruits in the food is a great idea for people of all ages. However, it is not a menu planning principle that teaches and encourages children to recognize and choose a variety of healthy fruits and vegetables.

10 Winter Fitness Activities for the Whole Family

By Beth W. Orenstein | Medically reviewed by Niya Jones, MD, MPH

Baby, it’s cold outside! But don’t let the deep freeze discourage you from getting outside and getting active. If you dress properly — in layers, taking care to protect your hands, feet, and ears — and if you choose fitness activities that are fun, you and your family can actually look forward to working out in winter, says Alice Burron, MS, a member of the Wyoming Governor’s Council on Physical Fitness and Sports, an American Council on Exercise spokeswoman, and author of Four Weeks to Fabulous. “Winter activities, particularly when there’s snow on the ground, are good for strengthening ‘balance’ muscles because of the uneven, slick surface,” Burron says. “What a great way to get your core muscles — the key to stabilizing your entire body — in shape for the spring.” And underneath all those layers, you can burn some serious calories. Below are 10 fun winter fitness activities for you and your family to choose from, and the calories you can burn, based on a 150-pound person and Everyday Health’s My Calorie Counter.

Sledding
Head to your local sledding hill (provided there’s snow) for a fun, aerobic workout. Sledding requires you to use multiple muscle groups to steer as you speed down hills. You also exert effort while walking with your sled back up the hill so you can go down again. In fact, walking uphill is where you get the most benefit — climbing hills is an aerobic exercise that’s also great for your leg muscles. How many calories you burn with this family fitness activity depends on how many back-and-forth trips you make and the steepness of the hill, but if you keep at it on a medium-height hill for just 30 minutes, you can burn about 240 calories.

Downhill Skiing
Although lift tickets and other costs make downhill skiing a more expensive winter exercise option, it is a great fitness activity that can be fun for your whole family. It’s not as intense a calorie burner as cross-country skiing, but you still end up burning many calories — a 150-pound person will torch about 240 calories for every 30 minutes of skiing downhill. Most ski enthusiasts do it for hours at a time, so the calorie burn can really add up.

Ice Skating
Ice skating is another winter exercise that's great for family fitness. As with skiing, how fast and how long you skate will determine how many calories you ultimately burn. A 150-pound person can burn about 240 calories in 30 minutes of rounding the rink at a respectable speed. One advantage to ice skating over skiing is that it's not as costly a fitness activity — most rinks will rent you skates if you don't have your own, and some rinks only charge the cost of skate rental.

Snowshoeing
Snowshoeing is another winter fitness activity that offers a total-body workout plus great fun for family fitness. Snowshoeing will strengthen your leg muscles while getting your heart pumping and oxygen going to your lungs. At moderate speeds, figure that a 150-pound person will roast about 270 calories every 30 minutes.

Playing in the Snow
It snowed, the kids are out of school, and you can't get to work. Make the most of it by bundling up the family for play in the snow. You can burn anywhere from 200 to 400 calories an hour with this family fitness activity, depending on how high you build your snowmen. Some more snow activities to try: Build a fort, have an old-fashioned snowball fight, and make snow angels. Playing in the show is certainly more fun than shoveling it, but you can torch 200 to 300 calories for every 30 minutes you spend clearing your driveway.

Cross-Country Skiing
Because you’re using both your upper and lower body, cross-country skiing is one of the most effective winter workouts. As any skier can tell you, it’s hard work, and a terrific calorie burner. A 150-pound person can zap about 340 calories in just 30 minutes of cross-country skiing. Another advantage of this family fitness activity is that you can do it in a nearby park — you don’t have to hit the slopes, which can be pricey.

Snow Tubing
Sometimes the simplest activities are the best: Add tubing to your winter routine, and your family will have a blast barreling down hills on top of rubber tubes. The advantage to snow tubing is that you don’t need any of the coordination or balance skills that skiing or even ice skating requires. Everyone in your family, no matter how small or how tall, can enjoy snow tubing. As with sledding, the calorie burn for a 150-pound person is about 200 to 300 for every 30 minutes, depending on how many times you go up and down a hill. At winter resorts that offer tubing, you’ll get the best cardio workout and burn the most calories if you walk back up the mountain rather than take the ski lift.

Touch Football
Football can be a great family fitness activity to do as the weather turns colder. Fortunately, you don’t need snow to round up players and start making plays. With football, you’ll be running and tackling and likely burning 200 to 300 calories every half-hour. If you’re worried about safety, with family members of all shapes and sizes participating in the game, make it touch football or tag football rather than the traditional tackle game.

Walking or Running
Walking is a year-round exercise and a fitness activity the whole family can enjoy. Go for a walk in the winter to see how your neighbors have decorated their homes for the holidays or to collect pinecones in a nearby park. Walk just 3 miles an hour, and you can burn 112 calories in a half hour. Step it up to a jog and you can easily blast 200 to 300 calories in 30 minutes. Walking can be difficult in snow, cautions Burron. Some family fitness safety tips: Rub the bottoms of your boots with sandpaper or screw some hex screws into the soles to decrease your risk of falling. Because there’s limited daylight in the winter, wear reflective clothing if you plan to be out early in the morning or late in the evening.

Ice Hockey
As a winter exercise, ice hockey has similar health benefits to ice skating. Gather a few friends to play, and some friendly competition may keep you skating longer — and the longer you skate, the more calories you burn. Figure about 200 calories for a 20-minute period if you weigh about 150 pounds. Before you skate, ensure everyone wears appropriate protective gear, even if you’re at a rink.
